3 Policy Principles

The Society:

- values, respects and promotes the inherent dignity and rights of all children and vulnerable people, especially those who are most vulnerable in our community.
- recognises in policy and practice, the diverse needs and circumstances of children and vulnerable people, and ensures that support is tailored accordingly so that children and vulnerable people are kept safe – regardless of social or economic position, cultural context, abilities and impairments.
- recognises the additional challenges and vulnerabilities for some communities including:
 - culturally and linguistically diverse communities.
 - First Nations Peoples.
 - Children and people who identify as part of the LGBTQI community.
 - Children and people with a disability.
- recognises and values members and volunteers of all ages and ensures that Society activities are suitable for vulnerable people and age-appropriate for children prior to their involvement.
- acknowledges that parents/carers have primary responsibilities for the development, wellbeing and safety of their children.
- acknowledges children's right to participate, be heard, listened to and taken seriously, and provides them with opportunities that support this in practice including by:
 - ensuring that programs and services involving children and young people systematically embed their voices in program design, implementation, monitoring and evaluation.
 - basing decisions regarding the welfare and protection of children and young people on their best interests after giving serious regard to the child or young person's views.
- engages in partnership with parents/carers, families and communities to develop safe, inclusive and supportive environments and processes to facilitate the well-being, and to prevent the abuse and neglect, of children and vulnerable people including by:

- informing and engaging openly with parents/carers, families and communities on issues, policies, and decisions impacting child safety and wellbeing.
- facilitating the participation of parents/carers in decisions affecting their child or young person.
- acknowledges that physical environments can pose a risk to children and designs Society services to balance visibility, child privacy and a child's capacity to engage in creative play.
- acknowledges that online environments can pose a risk to children and vulnerable people, and implements risk management processes to ensure these risks are identified and mitigated without compromising a child's right to privacy or wellbeing.
- believes that safeguarding and the wellbeing of children and vulnerable people must be committed to, supported and monitored by all levels of the organisation through appropriate recruitment, ongoing training of Society Personnel and the implementation of appropriate safeguarding preventative and responsive organisational systems.
- implements child focused, timely and effective processes to respond to concerns and complaints about child safety.

The Society does not tolerate any behaviour that is not safe for the children and vulnerable people who interact with us. Such behaviour may result in dismissal and, if it constitutes illegal activity, will be reported to relevant authorities.

The Society is committed to preventing abuse or harm to children and vulnerable people by:

- implementing appropriate risk management systems for all activities involving children and vulnerable people.
- executing safeguarding recruitment and screening measures.
- requiring appropriate safeguarding behaviours from all Society Personnel
- implementing procedures for reporting and responding to concerns about children and vulnerable people, and
- implementing effective procedures for reporting and responding to safeguarding allegations against Society Personnel.

3.1 Participation of children and vulnerable people

The Society recognises the unique insight, experiences and contribution of children and vulnerable people involved in our programs, and provides opportunities for their feedback about staff and services to be heard and incorporated into its policies and programs.

The Society will inform children and vulnerable people about the safeguarding behaviours expected from Society Personnel and the Society's procedure for responding to concerns about children and vulnerable people, including who to contact if they are at risk, have been abused, or are concerned about another child or person.

Where appropriate, children and vulnerable people will be involved in making decisions that affect them.

All activities or programs where children or vulnerable people attend without their parents, carers, or school, must have a designated staff member present for the duration of the activity. Any exemptions to this requirement, must be approved in writing by the Safeguarding Team.

3.2 Safeguarding behaviours expected of Society Personnel

The Society's Code of Conduct identifies acceptable and unacceptable behaviour (including appropriate boundaries) expected of Society Personnel working with children and vulnerable people.

The Society requires all Society Personnel to demonstrate appropriate, professional, safeguarding behaviours as referenced in their signed Code of Conduct.

Any behaviour that is not safe for children or vulnerable people will be treated seriously and may result in immediate suspension, or permanent removal from the Society. Unlawful behaviour will be reported to the relevant authorities.

3.3 Risk Management

The Society determines agreed minimum ages for children and young people participating in Society activities.

The Society ensures that relevant Personnel are trained in safeguarding and risk assessment so that they can identify potential risks to children and vulnerable people, and actively minimise the risk that children or vulnerable people may be harmed.

The Society conducts safeguarding risk assessment for its operations, programs and activities involving and affecting children and vulnerable people prior to their commencement according to our Safeguarding Risk Assessment Guidelines.

All Safeguarding Risk Assessments for activities and programs involving children or vulnerable people must be approved by the Safeguarding Team annually.

All new activities or programs for children and vulnerable people must have a risk assessment approved by the Safeguarding Team prior to the activity or program commencing.

The Society puts in place mitigation strategies for any risk identified which are actively monitored throughout the activity/program cycle.

The Society ensures that risk and mitigation strategies regarding safeguarding are recorded in the Society-wide risk assessment register for regular monitoring.

The Society's programs and services identify and mitigate risks to children and vulnerable people from online environments without compromising their right to privacy or wellbeing by ensuring effective measures are in place. See the Safeguarding in Online Environments Guideline in the Safeguarding Procedure.

3.4 Communication and the use of children and vulnerable people's images

The Society will at all times portray children and vulnerable people in a respectful and appropriate way.

The Society will obtain informed consent from children and vulnerable people and their parents/ guardians/ carers prior to using their story, image or personal information for promotion, fundraising and or educational purposes.

When requesting consent, the Society will give examples of, and provide details as to how, where and for how long the story, information and/or image will be used.

Prior to seeking consent, the Society will:

- undertake a risk assessment (with the child or vulnerable people and their parents/ guardians/ carers) regarding publication of any image, information or story about them.
- explain to the child or vulnerable person and their parents/guardians/ carers that it cannot control the use of images, stories or information once they are loaded onto the internet and that they could be viewed by anyone with internet access at any time.

The Society will not disclose any information identifying children or vulnerable people (including their family name, community or school name) in the published images.

The Society will ensure that all images and information about children and vulnerable people are stored safely and are only able to be accessed by authorised personnel.

3.5 Personnel recruitment and selection

The Society implements safeguarding measures within recruitment and selection process for all employees, members and volunteers to:

- reduce the risk of engaging people who may pose a risk to children and vulnerable people.
- ensure that people working with children and vulnerable people are suitable to secure the safety and wellbeing of children and vulnerable people in practice.

The Society requires all Society Personnel who are over 18 years old to undergo pre-engagement screening including:

- Working with Vulnerable People Checks (WWVPs) in ACT, and/or Working With Children Checks (WWCs) in NSW.
- National Criminal History Check (Police Checks)
- two (2) Reference checks
- NDIS Worker Screening (in NDIS funded services)
- Interviews that include behavioural questions for roles directly dealing with children or vulnerable people.

WWVPs or WWCs are a statutory requirement wherever employees, members or volunteers engage in work directly involving children or vulnerable people. Where specified positions in particular areas are demonstrably not child-related work, the Director may seek an exemption through the Society's Safeguarding Team. All requests supported by the Safeguarding Team will be forwarded to the CEO for approval.

The CEO and all Territory Council Members are required to have a valid Working with Vulnerable People Check or Working with Children Check, as appropriate.

The Society will not allow any person without the appropriate WWVP or WWC Check clearance to engage in any child-related work. Personnel who are under the age of eighteen engaged in child related work must apply for a WWVP or WWC Check in the three months prior to their eighteenth birthday.

Where a person currently engaged by the Society receives a bar or interim bar from working with children or vulnerable people, the Society will immediately remove them from any child-related role and will only continue their engagement in non-child related work with the approval of the CEO.

WWVPs and WWCs are obtained and 'owned' by the individual and provided to the Society to complete online verification of the current clearance on the Access Canberra or OCG (in NSW) website. Since WWVPs and WWCs have a five year expiry date, all Personnel are required to renew their check before it expires in line with legislative requirements and the processes set out by the relevant Government authority.

All WWVPs and WWCs are verified by People & Culture. No person can self-verify and, in the event, the designated personnel are unable to complete a verification, this will be conducted by the Safeguarding Team.

In accordance with the Society's Police Check Policy, apart from the pre-engagement Police Check, the Society also requires existing employees, members and volunteers to obtain a Police Check no later than three months after their eighteenth birthday and re-checks for all members, volunteers and employees every three years regardless of their role. It also provides for exemptions in very limited circumstances with the approval of the CEO.

Agreements with other agencies (such as a Work for the Dole provider or Correctional Services) will require a Police Check to a standard that is consistent with the Society's requirements.

The Society requires all interviews of potential employees, members and volunteers for engagement in child-related work to include child safe interview questions.

The Society requires all new members, volunteers and employees to provide the contact details of two referees prior to commencement of their role (written references will not be accepted). The Society will make direct contact with each referee before engaging the person and will ask about the candidate's capacity to work in a Child Safe Organisation.

3.6 Safeguarding awareness and training

The Society will promote safeguarding practices in Society activities and in the communities in which it works by:

- raising awareness about creating safe environments for children and vulnerable people.
- assessing and reducing risks to children and vulnerable people.
- providing children and vulnerable people, their families and communities joining Society programs or using Society services with information about this policy, the Society's Code of Conduct and the Society's Complaints and Investigations process.

The Society will ensure that all Personnel are aware of, and receive appropriate training in safeguarding behaviours, measures to prevent harm to children and vulnerable people, and measures to appropriately respond to and report concerns about the safety of children and vulnerable people.

All Society Personnel with direct or indirect contact with children and or vulnerable adults complete appropriate mandatory training as part of their induction and to participate in refresher training at least every two years.

The Society will communicate this and related policies and procedures to all Society

Personnel in on-boarding and induction procedures and ensure that they understand their responsibility, and the procedures, to report concerns about children and vulnerable people, including mandatory reporting obligations, in accordance with the Procedure for identifying and responding to concerns about children and vulnerable people (See Safeguarding Procedure).

Any Society Personnel engaged in child-related work or who are designated Mandatory Reporters will be required to complete appropriate training programs.

3.7 Responding to and reporting child protection concerns

The physical and sexual abuse of children is a crime in all Australian states and territories and neglect and/or abuse of children and young people is also required to be reported to State child protection authorities.

The Society considers the abuse and neglect of children to be completely unacceptable, takes all concerns and reports of child abuse seriously and acts on these reports immediately.

The Society is committed to a reporting process that is fair and professional.

Every effort will be made to protect the best interests, rights and safety of the child in responding to concerns and reports of child abuse.

It is mandatory for all Society Personnel to report any witnessed, suspected or alleged incidents of child abuse, concerns about a child or young person's safety or any breach of this Child Safeguarding Policy or the Code of Conduct by immediately following the Society's Safeguarding Procedure.

The Society will not take responsibility for any personal fines or legal action taken against personnel for failing to meet legislative reporting requirements.

Confidentiality is a key principle in reporting and managing child protection concerns. Any information relating to a child protection concern must only be shared with the designated Manager or Society Safeguarding Team. The names of people involved and the details of the report will remain confidential. Information will only be released on a 'need to know' basis, when required by Australian law, or when a report to police or child protection authorities is made.

All reports will be reviewed by the Safeguarding Team to determine if there is a requirement to report to any statutory authorities.

3.8 Breaches of this Policy

All Society Personnel are required to fully comply with this policy and procedure to ensure that the Society is child safe. The Society will take appropriate action to respond to any breach.

Where any Society Personnel refuse to comply with this policy or demonstrate behaviours that are not safe, they will be immediately removed from any contact with children or vulnerable people while the matter is being investigated. Depending on the nature and severity of the alleged behaviour they may be suspended from their duties with the Society pending the outcome of an investigation. Council Presidents should consult with the Territory Council, and Directors should consult with the Director People & Culture, before suspending Society Personnel to ensure appropriate processes are followed.

The Society and Council President will respond to all alleged breaches in accordance with the appropriate Safeguarding Procedures including, where necessary, referral to statutory authorities for criminal investigation.

Substantiated breaches may incur, depending on the severity of the breach, disciplinary action including: compulsory further education and training, a written warning, performance review, suspension or dismissal.

Where Society Personnel have been indefinitely suspended or their employment has been terminated as a result of a substantiated breach of this policy, they should not be re-engaged in another role with the Society unless a full risk assessment has been undertaken with the involvement of the Society's Safeguarding Team and a re-verified WWVP or WWC Check is completed.

3.9 Assessment and evaluation of safeguarding strategies

The Society will regularly assess and evaluate its safeguarding strategies, including by reporting against relevant implementation plans and participating in accreditation and auditing against appropriate National, Territory and State standards.

Specifically, this Policy and the Society's safeguarding strategies will be audited annually against the National Catholic Safeguarding Standards.

The Society will ensure that accreditation report recommendations are communicated and addressed using an integrated, whole of organisation planning approach.

3.10 Review

This policy and the effectiveness of its implementation will be reviewed at least once every two years after coming into operation or on a needs basis as required to align with legislative or practice changes.
